PROFILE

Step into the compelling narrative of my journey from the Marine Corps, where I served as a Sergeant, to the vibrant world of GAME DESIGN, as captured in my dynamic portfolio. Blending military experience with a deep passion for creativity, I've acquired invaluable skills in leading teams, solving complex problems, and fostering innovation. In the tech realm, my endeavors range from adeptly fixing computers to delving into the realms of robotics, including hands-on work with military vehicles, showcasing my versatility and problem-solving prowess.
